

Last ! Albany, Dec. 27, 1844.

My very dear friend:

Your precious Xmas Note gave me & my old wife great pleasure - on her part not untinted with the merest mite of jealousy. Being, as she most certainly is, an admirable woman. I know that my dear friend, your stay & joy, would love her. That the peerless two would be like their husbands, warm friends if they were gathered.
She longs for a participation in your friendships - one of my highest honors & most prized honors.
God bless & keep you <sup>both</sup> Our dear Sir's sake most affectionately yours
A. W. Weston

Buffalo, Jan. 1, 1889.

You have done a good deed -
- one among billions I doubt not - in warming the cockles of my poor old heart.

My love to you. How can you be, in this New Year, or at any time, unhappy - otherwise than truly felicitous - so long as you remain where I was so delighted to see you, many years ago - at the feet of dear Mr. Gray. I am so glad to be remembered kindly by her!

Most affectionately hers & consequently, yours,

L. W. Clinton.

A. Gray.

If ever I visit Butte.
